What does this risk indicator mean?

The above risk indicator ranks potential risk and reward and is based on medium-term volatility (how sharply the Sub-Fund's actual or estimated unit price has gone up and down over five years). Historical data, such as that used in calculating this synthetic indicator, may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Sub-Fund. The lowest category does not mean a 'risk-free' investment. The Sub-Fund's risk indicator is not guaranteed and may change over time. The Sub-Fund's risk category reflects the fact that as an asset class, equities tend to be more volatile than money market securities or bonds.

For un-hedged currency classes, exchange rate movements may affect the risk indicator where the currency of the underlying investments differs from the currency of the unit class.

Additional key risks

The risk indicator reflects market conditions of recent years and may not adequately capture the following additional key risks of the Sub-Fund:

Liquidity risk In adverse market conditions, securities that are liquid may become difficult to value, buy or sell, which could affect the Sub-Fund's ability to process redemption requests.

Operational risk Losses may occur due to human error or omission, process errors, system disruptions or external events.

Derivatives risk Derivatives create leverage in the Sub-Fund and may cause movements in the value of the underlying investments to amplify gains or losses to the Sub-Fund.

Emerging market risk Some of the countries invested in may carry higher political, legal, economic and liquidity risks than investments in more developed countries.

Amundi Funds II - Euro Bond

Class A EUR Non-Distributing - LU0119391471

A Sub-Fund of Amundi Funds II

Management Company: Amundi Luxembourg S.A.

>> Objectives and Investment Policy

Objective Seeks to increase the value of your investment and to provide income over the recommended holding period.

Portfolio securities The Sub-Fund invests mainly in euro denominated bonds issued by European governments. The Sub-Fund may also invest up to 30% of its assets in corporate bonds issued by European companies that are either denominated in euro or in other currencies, provided that these are principally hedged back to the euro. The Sub-Fund does not invest in equities or convertible securities. The Sub-Fund makes extensive use of derivatives to reduce various risks, for efficient portfolio management and as a way to gain exposure (either long or short) to various assets, markets or income streams. This may generate a high level of leverage. In particular, the Sub-Fund may invest in short and medium-term interest rate swaps.

Investment process The investment manager pursues two distinct strategies to separate pure return from market return. First, a core portfolio is constructed to match the return and volatility of the benchmark. Then additional investment strategies are pursued to generate excess return through the use of derivatives, and a disciplined risk management approach.

Benchmark The Sub-Fund is managed by reference to the JP Morgan GBI EMU index. However, the management of the Sub-Fund is discretionary and the investment manager is not constrained by the composition of the benchmark.

This is a non-distributing unit class. Investment income is re-invested. Investors may sell on demand on any business day in Luxembourg.

Benchmark The Sub-Fund is managed by reference to a composite benchmark comprised of the 5% JP Morgan Euro 1 Month Cash, 95% JP Morgan EMBI Global Diversified indices. >> Risk and Reward Profile

What does this risk indicator mean?

The above risk indicator ranks potential risk and reward and is based on medium-term volatility (how sharply the Sub-Fund's actual or estimated unit price has gone up and down over five years). Historical data, such as that used in calculating this synthetic indicator, may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Sub-Fund. The lowest category does not mean a 'risk-free' investment. The Sub-Fund's risk indicator is not guaranteed and may change over time. The Sub-Fund's risk category reflects the fact that as an asset class, emerging market bonds tend to be more volatile than developed market bonds.

For un-hedged currency classes, exchange rate movements may affect the risk indicator where the currency of the underlying investments differs from the currency of the unit class.

Additional key risks

The risk indicator reflects market conditions of recent years and may not adequately capture the following additional key risks of the Sub-Fund:

Counterparty risk Contract parties may default on their obligations under derivatives contracts entered into with the Sub-Fund.

Credit risk The issuers of bonds held by the Sub-Fund may fail to pay principal or interest due. Higher yielding bonds may carry greater credit risk.

Liquidity risk In adverse market conditions, securities that are liquid may become difficult to value, buy or sell, which could affect the Sub-Fund's ability to process redemption requests.

Operational risk Losses may occur due to human error or omission, process errors, system disruptions or external events.

Derivatives risk Derivatives create leverage in the Sub-Fund and may cause movements in the value of the underlying investments to amplify gains or losses to the Sub-Fund.

Emerging market risk Some of the countries invested in may carry higher political, legal, economic and liquidity risks than investments in more developed countries.

The Sub-Fund's risk category reflects the fact that as an asset class, equities tend to be more volatile than money market securities or bonds.
